Singapore's first public housing block has come into existence. To fulfill the shortage in government-subsidized housing, the Housing and Development Board (HDB) has launched the first-of-its-kind public housing block at Tampines Shopping Centre today.

ADVERTISEMENT It took nine years of negotiations and public housing giant, JTC Corp, to finally agree to the land purchase. The HDB holds only a short-term lease on the land, which it acquires via a Special Management Agreement and transfers back to the developer within 25 years. JTC, the developer of the sprawling shopping mall in Tampines, paid an initial deposit of $100 million for the land, which has a 25-year lock-in period. The block, which was built on a plot measuring about nine hectares and contains three blocks, comprises 9,888 units. It will be open to eligible government permanent residents at Tampines, Simei, Hougang, Punggol, Ang Mo Kio, Bedok, Marine Parade and Pasir Ris. While the price of each unit ranges from $690,000 to $1.2 million, the monthly rental for a three-room flat will be about $2,600, according to HDB.

“This is truly a step forward for public housing as Singaporeans have never had the choice to be in the very heart of our community while at the same time being able to live in one of the best shopping malls in the world,” said HDB chairman Tony Tan Keng Yam. “This should serve as a good reminder to all Singaporeans, including those in the private market, to work hard towards financial independence as our country is facing a long and demanding road
