NikPad is a small and user-friendly application that comes in handy when you want to quickly create and edit existing plain text files. Pasted content can be stored in the temporary clipboard provided by the app. Handle and edit the saved text from the clipboard. The program comes in the form of an executable file that can be run directly from the drive. Since it's portable, you can carry it on an external drive and launch it from any computer. Another advantage is that the app doesn't tie itself to the Windows system and doesn't leave any traces behind after it's been deleted. Files can be opened from and saved to TXT format. The temporary clipboard lets you organize, edit, remove and add new records with ease. Customize the composition's look. It's possible to copy and paste content directly from other sources and arrange it in the page. You can format the text by changing the font type, size and color, insert bulleted lists, and convert the characters to lower, upper, inverted and title case. Hide unnecessary panels and lock important phrases from being modified. From the options, you have the choice to hide the status bar and toolbar, enable auto-saving, lock specific text, and open the temporary clipboard. Sadly, only HTML code can be inserted. There is no option to add images, the date and time, symbols or special characters. Plus, it would've been nice if the app came with rich file support, like RTF, DOC, HTML or HTM and automatic hyperlink recognition. Decent word processor. The bottom line is that NikPad is an intuitive text editor designed to offer simple methods to write and customize plain text documents, manage the temporary clipboard and lock particular sentences from being modified accidentally. Thanks to its portability, the program doesn't create registry entries and consumes little system resources.

Let's be honest, after spending 4.3 million dollars to create the "cradle of civilization" at Abu Simbel we really just wanted to get back to a nice, sandy beach. So we hired some locals to build a bungalow for us. It's not the most grandiose or elaborate, but it does have a private beach, private pool, private bar, and private thai restaurant. The house has a private master bedroom with an ensuite bathroom, a bathroom for all the other bedrooms, an office, a small home theater, a few home office amenities and a private swimming pool. There is a daybed and a daybed on the private porch. The backyard is ample. There is a water feature and a barbeque. This is a small house. 1,200 sq. ft. for 4-5 people. There is adequate parking for 2 cars. But it's the view. I am a big beach man. So, no matter the price, I'll take a house with a view. Here are some of the photos: The home is located in Menteng, South Jakarta. It is a quick trip to the Jakarta business district. We have a driver and a car for you to use. We'll also have a driver to drive you to/from the airport. We would need to know how many guests will be staying so that we can make sure that we have enough room. So, tell us about your dates and we'll get back to you with more information. The house has a king bed, 2 bedrooms, 2 bathrooms, living and dining area and a large pool. You're welcome to use my suite of rooms. If you do choose to use my suite, you're welcome to use my kitchen and pool (open to my guests) for a small fee of US$200 per day. The house is a 5-minute walk from the Ment
