Jan 11, 2020 It is a google map, a navigator, like Windows or Map applications. I use it much more than an GPS for various reasons and it is one of those things that the game world is so simple that it took me years to learn how to actually use it. I'm glad you brought up that I'm not the first person to use this system in this game. A: No the navi does not use google map technology, it is a previously created object (SAI) that does not use the google technology to use a 3d map. Be nice if you look a bit deeper at an in game file viewer and not so blindly jump to conclusions. so it's literally a csv file -or- a database with a special format. If you want gv.navigator to work you will have to extract the file and unzip it first. Also, GV.navigator is a star chart for pvp in a galaxy map. The star chart starts in F8, not in F3, so be careful of that. Still, I'd advise you to use your google map navigator and not this GV.navigator Q: Is it correct to use "Abandon" here? While it is possible to use it in a sentence like that it is often used to denote a temporary disconnection. Note that if what you are describing as a hunter is another person then you might be using the word in a figurative or metaphoric sense. A: Abandon as a verb may not be appropriate here. However it is very common to see it used to indicate the end of a relationship or employment. Bob left his CEO position on the day before Christmas to pursue a new opportunity in Dallas. "I have become a hunter and you are my prey." is not the sort of statement that would typically be followed by the word abandon in the English language (Though it could be in some other languages, e.g. if the speaker 570a42141b
