----- Quick Hide IP Torrent Download is a really great tool that allows you to surf the web anonymously by switching the hidden IP address with a new one at a specified time interval. When you first open the application, you will find a couple of options to configure the IP switching and you can also enable, disable and change the time interval to automatically hide the IP. Under the main configuration section, there is a system tray icon which you can maximize to get to a menu where you can open different tabs to access some advanced configurations. These are obviously hidden from the main window. Basic configuration settings: ----- - Country: Select a country. - IP: The IP address of the proxy. - Port: The port of the proxy. - Type: Select the type of the proxy. - Uptime: How many seconds the IP of the proxy has been switched. - Speed: Proxy network speed. Advanced configuration settings: ----- - Auto switch: This feature enables/disables the automatic IP switching. - Auto switch interval: It is the time interval when the application will switch the IP address. - Random interval: This option activates the auto IP switching with a random time interval. - Auto: This option enables/disables the automatic IP switching. - Repeat interval: This option sets the maximum number of times the application will switch the IP address. - Enable / Disable: This option allows you to toggle the state of the auto IP switching. - Launch or close: This option allows you to set which app (browsers) will be used to change the IP address and switch the hidden IP. NOTE: You can also enable/disable the option to keep the IP private, or enable/disable the option to show the IP. Quick Hide IP is very easy to use and provides what it promises. Quick Hide IP Description: Privacy keeps a lot of people away from using the Internet and its services, and of course it should. However, there are plenty of those who don't even want their IP being saved for one or more reasons. However, this is something that users won't have to worry about anymore, if they're using Quick Hide IP, a very handy application that enhances anonymity while browsing the web by automatically switching to a public proxy server and replacing the real IP with a hidden IP. The program works with the common web browsers, including Internet Explorer, Google Chrome and Firefox, and also supports many other web browsers by a simple manual configuration. One of the main benefits of using Quick Hide IP is its highly configurable interface. You can set a precise set of options to prevent others from tracking your activity, which makes this a privacy-enhancing app with tons of features. Quick Hide IP comes with a configuration window where you can manage its settings and login details in order to make it work. One of the things that make the program efficient is its low resource consumption and it will not slow down your computer like many other similar apps do. The auto proxy switching interval is also settable, allowing you to reduce the time between each switch and benefit from a proxy server in the shortest time possible. Quick Hide IP is a really interesting privacy-enhancing tool that does everything in its power to make you keep using the Internet in complete anonymity. This is one of the best programs out there that makes you enjoy privacy protection in no time.
