ImpEx is an exeplugin for Farsite. It allows for fast and easy access to most resources within your PE files. Almost any PE file can be read and viewed. Many kinds of information (functions, imports, exports, bit depths, etc.) are supported, and can be imported and exported via the Far Manager. It also has additional functions, such as code indexing, header information viewing, or function browsing. All these functions can be customized by editing the plugin's config file, which is described in the documentation. ImpEx's functions are listed below: * Bit depth : Allows you to change bit depth. * Code Index : Allows for code indexing and viewing of a code chart. * Imports and Exports : Allows you to view imports and exports. * Handling of resources : Allows you to import and export functions, handles, imports, exports, imports/exports, and bit depths. * Cross-Function Reference : Allows for viewing cross-function references. - Download Link - File Size: 4.9 MB Developer : Graezia Download the config file and the Readme Download the plugin and the config file y Geacoyan 12 Oct 2012, 21:10 The file sizes are ridiculously high, what's up with that? npe007 14 Oct 2012, 19:12 It's a plugin for Far Manager. In Far, plugins add more functionality to Far. If you run Far without plugins, it will only run plugins. Tragonan 14 Oct 2012, 19:36 Maybe if it was a plugin instead of an exe, you could download it faster. It's only a 4.9MB download after all. lmd_ 14 Oct 2012, 23:25 Xeon Dude - What's your problem with it?
