KCAL Calkulator gives you the most accurate number of calories that you consume, while calculating the energy expenditure based on your weight and the physical activities that you normally practice. It is the simple tool for many. That's my point. A billion people in the world use calculators. 85% of all of them are not proficient in math. How many people could make this product?? How many people are going to remember how many calories they eat everyday to see if they lost weight? What is the real advantage of this tool? Why does it have to be so complicated? Why can't it be simple? Now you've made it more complicated. I'm sorry to tell you, but most people will never get past the first page. The beauty of a calculator application is that it is so simplistic that as many as are capable of using it will do so. a69d392a70
