It enables you to optimize your phone's performance, keep your data safe, and protect your phone from hardware problems. And it is free! APK Size: 265 KB Fast cooking apps and need money to buy some new ingredients Everyone knows that cooking can bring you not only joy, but also good meals and meals that will make you feel more energetic. However, every new recipe you try to make from the books you read, requires you to buy some new ingredients that can be really expensive. That is precisely the problem with this app, where you can get the recipes but you will need to pay for all the ingredients. This recipe app has a friendly user interface, with the most important buttons at the top of the screen so that you can browse through the different recipe categories and see at the same time if you can find one that you'd like to try, and one that might be cheaper to make. The bottom screen, on the other hand, offers you a new recipe every time you pull the screen down, and most of the recipes have a detailed description and a price for each ingredient. Another feature that will make you enjoy your time in the kitchen is the ability to set a timer, which will allow you to have some down time so that you can concentrate on the cooking without paying attention to your phone as it continues to text and play music. The ability to share a recipe with friends is another feature that could bring you a lot of satisfaction, since you can ask them to follow your steps and if they try one of the recipes they just saw, they can comment their impressions to you. However, all those features are not enough to make this app really good, so you should still think about installing it if you're into cooking, but you're not really able to afford new ingredients in your kitchen. Fast cooking apps and need money to buy some new ingredients If you enjoy cooking and want to have a good time while you prepare some tasty dishes, this recipe app may be the best solution for you.
