Let's turn off Adobe Acrobat Reader, so it will not appear in the . Sep 1, 2012 Ctrl+Alt+Del, open Windows Defender and press CTRL+ALT+DELETE. I have also tried from Task Manager (Processes tab) but so far have no luck. It will be easiest to disable the real-time protection component in Windows Defender, but that only works when the program is running. It's a generic solution to a generic problem. I'm looking for something that will actually work for my purposes. Thanks! A: Here's what you've asked for. Here's a batch file that will disable Acrobat Reader for Office 365. It'll disable it so you won't be able to open PDFs from Office 365. It must be run with an elevated command prompt (which can be done when you've clicked on the "run as administrator" button when you click Start > Run...). If you've disabled UAC in Windows you will be prompted to allow Windows to perform the tasks before you can execute the batch file. @echo off REM Disable Acrobat Reader for Office 365 WMIC qfe service where name='AcroExch.ReadInterface' call disable Pause To re-enable Acrobat Reader you can use: WMIC qfe service where name='AcroExch.ReadInterface' call enable If you're looking for something to disable Acrobat Reader on a per-user basis then you can use the registry.
