Singleton - cast to known static type on constructor I have an issue that I can't solve. I have 2 applications, let's say App1 and App2. I have a static singleton in App2. And when that class is instantiated, I need to know which App is App2 or App1. I've found how to cast the object, but I can't cast the object because it isn't a known static type in the App1. Any suggestions?

A: You should be able to just construct an instance of App2, and use the IClassProvider singleton to get the assembly name:

App2.cs namespace

MyProject { public static

class App2 { public static

```
IClassProvider
```

```
GetAppClass() { return

(IClassProvider 648931e174

RGN's hard drive problem is almost over. Sources close to the fix have told me. He should be able to get the desired results, but it's going to be a slow process.

Q: After decoding blob into array, I want to copy a part of this array into a new array I have created two json files from two feeds, an array of strings and an array of doubles. I have been using the following code to decode the json to an array of strings.

//decode json to array do { let string =
    NSString(data: data!, encoding: String.Encoding.utf8.rawValue) let json = NSJSONSerialization.JSONObjectWithData(data!, options:
    NSJSONReadingOptions.MutableContainers, error:
    nil) as? NSDictionary if let dictionary = json { self.json = dictionary //print(json) } else { print(json) } } while (!data.isEmpty) Then I try to get a part of it and decode it into a double to use in a graph as a label. let aDouble = Double(json![" dsjdkf"]["dshjdsd"]["12"]["test"].stringValue)
    When I try this to decode the string that I want to put into a double, I get an error. Any suggestions?
