But, we need your help. I need some info to fix an error that I've encountered. I need to install this application on my home computer for one of my kids. But I also want to make sure that this is not a virus before I . I know this is probably a simple fix and I'm a noob at this, but I have no idea what I'm doing. I'm trying to install Stardock Deskscapes 8. I'm on a W-7 computer. I run that as administrator. I click the EXE file. I run it, and then I get this error: "Windowsto try to repair problems or re-initialize missing information" A: I'm assuming that you want to install Stardock Deskscapes 8, since you mentioned the word Deskscapes. You probably need to install the.msi file or the.exe file to the desktop. The files might be located in the directory C:\Program Files (x86)\Stardock\DeskScapes\8. Desktop application names have a tendency to be tricky. I would recommend you do a little research on the internet, and search for the name: Deskscapes 8, DeskScapes 8, Stardock DeskScapes 8 to see if it's related to anything. You can use a website like this to quickly search the web for all of the Deskscapes software with the name in the search text box: The software website for Deskscapes 8 lists a few download links. Using the link to the.msi file would be easier since you do not have to download and install the.exe file from the website. Although social media is changing our lives, the notion of a successful social media presence is still rooted in the old-fashioned paradigm of "who is your target market"? In reality, you don't have to pick just one market, you have to be effective at all markets. Competency is
