Windows 10 @Akhmim It was.

A customer asked me, I started the installation and it took only 1.7 GB of free space. Actually, it's difficult to tell how big an application is in the pre-setup wizard. It said it required something like a GB or 2. But the first time it said that I removed it and started with some trial version, but it was still filling the space with some something and no game wanted to be installed. I suggest you to start with the trial version for a full working scenario. But if you do want to use it you can really save some space. Good luck.
