Please note 7Caps is not compatible with applications that use a custom notification area icon like 7-Zip The Caps Lock key is most intriguing. You either use it, or you don't, and if you happen to number among the latter group, you'll know that forgetting having it toggled on can get especially annoying. While some keyboards have an LED indicator to inform you of the key's status, this feature is still not present everywhere.

And yet, not everyone looks at their keyboard to check for that indicator and that's where 7Caps makes itself useful. It informs you of your Caps Lock and Num Lock status right from your desktop and even plays a sound when those keys are engaged. Know when the keys are on This app acts as an indicator of sorts for your Caps and Num lock keys, and to that extent, it does a good job of notifying you about their status. Upon starting it, the app features a non-intrusive, always-on-top indicator that summarily
