What is Roblox? The idea for Roblox came to David Baszucki and Erik Cassel while they were attending the University of Waterloo. During a conversation on a subway train, they had a number of discussions about what they wanted to build next, leading to the creation of Roblox. The two decided to create a place where children could socialize and play games together. They wanted this to be a safe and fun place. The two first made a video game called Breakout in 2004 while they were still at University. They released that game in 2006, and the response from users was positive, but it did not reach the popularity that the duo had hoped for. Roblox Programming Roblox allows users to create computer games. There are two ways to create a game on Roblox. The first is to use a drag and drop editor. While this is the most commonly used tool, most users also create games using an HTML5 template. This makes it possible to create complex games quickly. Roblox even offers a step-by-step guide on how to use the drag and drop editor. Roblox encourages users to use Lua, an easy to learn programming language, for creating games. As part of the platform's educational mission, it was the first game creation platform to do so. Every Roblox game includes the "Block" toolbox. This tool allows users to create "blocks" that users can use to make their own games. Users can easily transfer knowledge from creating these blocks to creating their own blocks. This means that the learning curve for creating games is not very steep. With the ability to create games in Lua, users can make games in a wide variety of genres, including first-person shooters, platformers, escape room games, role playing games, and action games. Roblox does not restrict games to a particular theme, but does have some suggestions. Roblox Community The Roblox community consists of over 100 million users. They not only include children, but also young and older adults. Roblox originally placed a strong emphasis on teamwork. Nowadays, Roblox games tend to be a mixture of coordinated play with other users and games solo. Roblox's community thrives on teamwork. On average, about three out of four Roblox users are in teams, and most games require teams. The platform is supported by a strong moderation team. The team mostly focuses on detecting and taking down

Robux are essentially free money added to your account. We all get free robux every day, but its not like its free money it is added as a stat on your account. So what are you waiting for? Go ahead and search the internet for hundreds of threads like this one. Woah cool! This is a cool thread. I have a question though. I have a friend who is supposedly real mad about robux not being free, but he would never admit that. But to his point, its the perfect way to hack his account with key generators, and how can they be free and not make it look bad in the forums for the people that have the most robux? Now if he was smart, he would just stop bragging and admit it, but he isn't even smart enough to think that way And now we have to wait until another member or non-member claims he or she has the same or related issue, or the community decides to close it without evidence. So is it possible for a player to get free robux through a "generator"? To answer your question, I don't think there are any free generators out there anymore (the ones that had been around, they are smart enough not to cheat anymore and of course the API has been changed so it's not possible anymore without a third party scraper). You will always need to invest some money into getting free robux. Quoting: Anonymous Coward 24557112 My friend is totally lying about this. Its the most retarded statement I have ever heard. This was happening like a year ago. The official forums (for free robux) listed things like official "free robux generators" that were made by programmers who were hired. To "just stop bragging" means not do things that will make your account look bad. But what you do is just simply lie. Get over it. Now if he was smart, he would just stop bragging and admit it, but he isn't even smart enough to think that way. And now we have to wait until another member or non-member claims he or she has the same or related issue, or the community decides to close it without evidence. So is it possible for a player to get free robux through a "generator"?
